FATAL WRECK.

Wm. R. Spaulding Kill-ed in Collision.

Two N. & W. Freight Trains Come Together at Prichard W. Va.

As the result of a head-on collision between a west bound and an east-bound freight train on the N. & W. near Prichard early last Tuesday morning Fireman Spaulding, of Wheelersburg, O., is dead and Brakeman Sam Kelley, of Dunlow, and Engineer Charles Inguls, are badly injured. One of Kelley's feet was cut off and Inguls is cut and bruised very seriously. Kelley was riding on the engine when the accident occurred and was caught in the wreck. Spaulding's father lives at Webb, east of Fort Gay. His wife is the N. & W. operator at Wheelersburg. Several trainmen saved themselves by jumping, but the fireman was buried under the engine and it was hours before his body could be taken from the ruins.

Of the real cause of this bad wreck but little is known. It is said that the engineer of the west bound train lost control of his engine. He had orders to take siding at Prichard opposite Buchanan, on the C. and O., but failed to stop as ordered. He had proceeded but a short distance when the east bound train came along at a high rate of speed and the catastrophe ensued.

A large number of cars were ruined and it was several hours before the track was cleared for traffic.

No Tr ops.

No troops will be sent to Carter, Elliott, or Grayson counties by Gov. Wilson to prove collectors while they endeavor to gather the railroad taxes, which had been adjudged legal obligations of these counties by the Federal Courts.

When the Governor believes will be ripened to a complete understanding and amicable arrangement was reached at the long conference held in the mansion. The Sheriff and County Attorney of Carter county agreed to do what their duty requires in the matter, and Gov. Wilson is satisfied. He will later issue a complete statement setting forth the results of the conference.

Important Martin Co. Decision.

Judge Hunt of Cincinnati has decided that 15,445 acres of land, embracing almost the entire county of Martin in Kentucky, and containing mines, minerals and the town of Warfield, rightfully belonged to C. E. Breigel and his mother, Catherine M. Breigel. The title to the property was vested in their names.

In 1887 the land was sold by order of the court to Louis Burger, but the plaintiffs declared Burger had only contributed part of the purchase price, and an agreement was made, whereby Burger was to act as trustee. It was on this agreement that the decision was based.

The largest part of this immense property at one time belonged to Col. James A. Barrett, deceased. He tried in vain to hold his valuable lands, and now none of his name own, as far as known, an acre of the big domain. The money spent in litigation pending the adjustment of the many claims to the estate is a fortune in itself.

There is no finer coal on earth than the Warfield coal, and its resources are just beginning to be developed. With the final adjudication of the contending interests it is reasonable to presume that the land will be divided into smaller boundaries or that the almost limitless mineral wealth will be developed as a whole.

Fred Vinson Still Leading.

Recently we mentioned the excellent record being made by Fred M. Vinson, of this place, at Central University, Danville, Ky. Another examination was held last week and Fred made the highest general average of any student in the University. His average was 98 per cent. His lowest grade on any branch was 96 per cent. Fred is a graduate of the Kentucky Normal College of Louisa, which accounts largely for his thoroughness.

Has Bought Another Store.

W. D. Pierce of this place has purchased a general store at Greenfield, O. He will conduct that store and so the one at Louisa. Greenfield is about 150 miles from here and has a population of about 6,000.

MARRIAGE

Of Dr. J. Allen Prichard and Miss Laura Compton.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Compton in Ashland was the scene of a most beautiful home-wedding last Wednesday at high noon when his sister, Miss Laura K. Compton, of Buchanan, became the wife of Dr. J. Allen Prichard, of Mavity.

The bride is an accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mr. J. K. Compton, of Buchanan, and is well and favorably known by a host of people in Louisa. As will be remembered she was telegraph operator here for some time and her genial disposition won for her many friends. The groom is a prosperous physician and is one of Boyd county's wealthiest citizens.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. H. F. Ball, pastor of the M. E. Church, of Buchanan, no one being present but a few of the immediate relatives. The bride was handsomely attired in a dark blue traveling suit. The ceremony being over and an elegant dinner having been served, they were driven to the C. & O. depot where they boarded No. 3 for a tour through the West visiting relatives in Nebraska en route. After a few weeks they will be at home to their friends at Mavity, where the Dr. has his home already furnished awaiting its mistress. May the richest blessings of life surround them is the wish of their many friends.

Broke Her Arm.

Mrs. Julia Snyder sustained a very serious and painful injury on Monday last. She is a pupil of the K. N. C. and while going from one building to another on the day mentioned she fell and broke her left arm between the elbow and the shoulder. Dr. T. D. Burgess was called and set the fractured bone.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. C. C. Sullivan Passed Away at Ashland Tuesday Night.

BURIED AT LOUISA YESTERDAY.

Mrs. Charity Clifford Sullivan was born near Fort Gay, W. Va., on December 20, 1881. She died in Ashland, Ky., March 30, 1909. She was the daughter of Frederick and Pamela Moore. When very young she became the wife of Rev. Christian Sullivan, a man prominent in Methodism. Mr. Sullivan died in 1864. Of this union there are four living children.

These are Mrs. Jas. Shannon, Henry and William Sullivan, of Louisa, and a sister Mrs. Rebecca Gallup, of Catlettsburg, and a brother, F. R. Moore, of this county, are living. Many grandchildren, a great grandchild and numerous nephews and nieces are also living.

No, notwithstanding her advanced age Mrs. Sullivan maintained good health, barring some of the infirmities of those who are advanced in years. During the recent winter she suffered much with rheumatism, but no great alarm was felt until last Monday. Her condition then grew serious and her children here were then summoned. They left on the first train for Ashland Tuesday morning but arrived too late to see their honored mother alive. On Wednesday the body of Mrs. Sullivan was brought to this city and carried to the residence of her son Henry. At 10:30 a. m. Thursday it was taken to the M. E. Church South where the solemn funeral was held.

Many years ago it was said by Mrs. Sullivan that she wanted the Rev. John T. Johnson to preach her funeral, and if he were dead she wanted it preached by Dr. T. S. Wade. Mr. Johnson has long since gone to the reward of the righteous, and so it became the sad duty of Dr. Wade to comply with the wish of his dead friend. He came, and over the cold form of her whose spirit had left the mute clay and gone to him who gave it its pronounced fitting eulogy.

Before the removal of the body to the church many friends of the deceased visited the house where it lay amid the wealth of flowers, tokens of regard and affection from those who knew and loved her who had gone.

At the conclusion of the service the body was taken to Pine Hill cemetery, and there in the midst of those who were near and dear to her, bone of bone and flesh of her flesh, the mortal remains of Mrs. Sullivan will rest.

With the passing of Mrs. Sullivan a notable character has left the scenes of life. She was in many respects a remarkable woman. From her father and mother she inherited a mind of great strength and a brain of great power. She received a fine education, and she supplemented this with a course of reading and study which ended only with her life. She was by nature a woman of great refinement, and this, with her rare culture, genial manner and attractive personality made her a most delightful companion. She was a woman of noble impulses, affections, and character. Her love enriched its objects, and her friendship was sought after and prized by its recipients. And with all these splendid attributes Mrs. Sullivan was a devoted Christian. She lived her life as became one of her high estate, cheerfully, happily and without the slightest taint of Pharisaism, and that she has reaped the reward of her right living there is, there can be, not the slightest doubt. She had nearly reached by "reason of strength," the biblical four score, but the strong mind, the fine intellect, were never for a moment dulled or clouded, and death for her was but a transition. The ship which bore her along the stormy sea of time has crossed the bar and rests in the haven of eternal peace.

Owing to a derailment of a freight car on the O. & R. at Chestnut, just south of Richardson, Thursday evening, passenger train No. 38 was delayed several hours, not reaching Pikesville until 8:30 o'clock next morning.

Local Option Fight in Boyd.

The liquor fight in Catlettsburg and Ashland is being hotly contested. The vote will be taken next Monday. In Catlettsburg the fight is extremely fierce. There are some very unusual and absurd features in the situation. On the side of the "wets" are a number of church members, several temperance (?) business men, and, worst of all, a few women.

Their excuse is that this is a fight over the location of the county seat. They say they did not want to vote on the liquor question until after the county seat matter is settled and they are retailing by voting for the sake of intoxicants.

In so doing they are really trying to move the court house to Ashland, especially if Ashland should go dry, as it seems very likely to do. Under this condition Catlettsburg would be made such a disreputable place by the drunkards of Ashland, Ironton and elsewhere, that the country people would vote to move the county seat to Ashland.

The Fly.

Speaking of sources of typhoid infection the Courier-Journal contributes the following. It's not a complimentary notice, but no one can deny its truthfulness:

And the fly—the common house fly. The Government investigator considers the name too tame. He urges the people to adopt as a substitute the style "typhoid fly" as more appropriate to the criminal character of the insect as the main disseminator of typhoid fever. Dr. Howard pays the fly no compliments. The insect is bred on filth, it feeds on filth, it carries from 550 to 6,000 bacilli around and deposits them in butter, milk or other food which the human takes into his stomach. If there is any pest which should be exterminated with all the aggressiveness the rape can command it is the fly. As for the economic loss caused by the fly's habits, the author volunteers to figure. He allows the reader to draw his conclusions.

Shannon Branch.

Death has again visited our community and taken from us Mrs. Vic Moore, the beloved wife of Andy Moore. She was 48 years of age and a good christian woman, a kind wife and mother. She will be greatly missed, for all loved her.

Besides her husband and four sons she leaves four sisters and five brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. The bereaved have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

W. T. Cartmel and wife visited Harve Shannon Sunday.

Jamee Miller and Bill Cox passed here Sunday en route to John Adkins'.

Mrs. H. J. Shanon and Mrs. Annie Hardin visited Mrs. Nors Shannon Sunday.

John Shannon is on the sick list.

Mrs. May Olive and Onida Shannon made a trip to Torchlight Friday.

Granville Thompson passed through here and reports Miss Gypsey fast improving.

Misses Emma and Delilia Shannon attended church on Lick Creek Sunday.

Delay in Gas Service.

The use of the new college building has been delayed a month already by the failure of the gas company to install a meter. Application was made two months ago for the meter.

The gas company claims the delay is the result of the factory that furnishes the equipment. It is certainly a very unsatisfactory way of serving the public.

Gared Hughes is very ill at his home near Louisa.

This month's bulletin deals almost exclusively with "School Grounds and school buildings," and is enriched with a multitude of handsome cuts and drawings illustrating modern methods of heating, lighting and arranging school rooms and for beautifying the grounds. Twenty thousand of these bulletins are being sent out.

Old Hickory.

A large body of civil engineers has recently gone to Martin county, this State and the Eastern part of Wayne county, West Virginia. The parties were in three distinct sections and carried complete tenting outfit. These engineers will survey the coal beds of that locality. One party will work in Martin county, surveying and laying the vast areas of mineral and other wealth in that region. Another will work along Jennie's Creek and S'onceoal creek in Wayne, while a third will be assigned to the narrow bottom section of Mingo county. The work will occupy several months. Many thousand acres of undeveloped mineral lands lie in that vicinity and various interests have holdings. The object of the present surveys is to make well defined lines between the properties of the various land owners and leaseholders so that when transfers are made and developments begin, there will be no confusion.

The NEWS could not believe that in all Wilbur and vicinity there could be a "Gly Without a Sweetheart," but a lassie from that locality, so signs herself and forgives to tell us what other cognomen belongs to her. Therefore, so, and likewise hence and consequently, her letter does not appear in this paper.

Two ladies in Winchester have each a bottle of wine in their possession that is nearly two hundred years old. This wine has been handed down from generation to generation, with the request that the seals of the bottle be not broken. Naturally this wine is a prized possession, and the only reason the ladies have for withholding their names from publication is the fear that some old toper will rob them of their cherished treasure.—Winchester Democrat.

Representative Langley, of Kentucky introduced in the House the measure prepared by the Anti-Saloon League of America, which will be called the Anti-Saloon League bill. The bill proposes to prohibit the shipment of liquor from a point outside of a State if such shipment would be unlawful from another point within the State. In other words it seeks to prohibit the shipment of liquor into the States from wet States.

As the bill does not seek to delegate to the States the control over such shipments, which was a feature of the Littlefield bill, it is thought by its advocates that the charge of unconstitutionality cannot be insinuated against it.

Some one had set fire to a heap of rubbish in the corner of the depot yard and Johnson had approached and was standing by the fire bending over to warm his hands. Suddenly there was a terrible explosion from the burning rubbish which blew out both of his eyes, lacerated his face and hurled him backward to the ground. It is not known what caused the explosion, but it is believed to have been from a stick of dynamite which had been raked up in the rubbish heap. A great hole was torn in the earth where the fire had been, but nobody was hurt except Johnson. He will recover but will lose the sight of both eyes.

It would be small wonder indeed if the editor of the Harrodsburg Democrat has not opened up an endless controversy with his readers with the following advanced views on quite a ticklish subject:

Some persons are always worrying about death and the coffin and shroud are constantly before them; but why worry about death if we live sanely? We know that death must come; that it is just as natural as birth, besides being absolutely essential to the enjoyment of high life.

Why should a funeral procession move slowly and mournfully when the soul of the lump of clay in the casket is awakening in a place of pure delight.

Our funeral customs are about as senseless as possible, if not positively heathenish. This is generally conceded but the old habits are not easily changed.

In early times the doctor who had assisted the deceased to leave this world walked arm in arm with the preacher, bareheaded and slowly.

Doctors don't do that now. If they did they might not have so much time to devote to their live patients. It was the fashion then, and fashion makes a great difference.

An then if religion be true, and our hopes are well grounded, why should we not rejoice when friends are relieved from pain and suffering and given peaceful, joyous rest.

And, if we believe what we preach, and live as well as we know how, why should we fear the grave? It seems as though we ought to welcome it.

The fact of the matter is that no one is afraid to die when the hour of departure has come. Nature provides a most effective anaesthetic.

MONEY COMES IN BUNCHES.

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, and general debility," he writes. There are women whose domestic afflictions would crush them if they were not heroines, who silently suffer and make the most of their disappointed years. They sing in the minor key, but still they sing, and so the world thinks them happy when they are only brave.

If there is heroism in the field there is equal heroism in many a home which the world knows nothing about, which only angels see.

There are fathers who bravely struggle against the tides of fate, and never lose the secret of their despair whose young dreams have all faded, but who patiently bear their allotted burden with what tries to be resignation.

ALONZO BOWLING.

Frank L. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, broke all American railroad records, in an effort to reach the bedside of his dying mother in Chicago, but he lost the race with death by exactly 28 minutes. Mr. Vanderlip, in a special train covered the distance from New York to Englewood, a suburb of Chicago in 15 hours and 14 minutes.

Murmuring a prayer for her soul,
Mrs. Mary Farmer was led to the electric chair, Auburn prison, shortly after 6 o'clock last Monday morning and executed for the murder of Mrs.
Sarah Brennan at Brownville last April.

The execution of Mrs. Farmer—the second infliction of the death penalty on a woman by electrocution in New York—was effected without sensational incident. Five women, two of whom were prison attendants,
were witnesses.

"I sometimes think," suavely replied Mr. Cannon, "that perhaps he (Clark) is not as clear to the matter of the difference between the suggestions of that which is error and the letting alone of that which is truth, as he might have been in discussing the public questions touching the revenues."—Mr. Cannon in reply to Champ Clark on the floor of the House.

Which shows that there are more ways than one of calling a man a liar.

R. L. Vinson and wife and Miss Willie Frazer went to Ironton on Saturday last to attend the funeral of their relative, Elisa Thompson, who died in Florence, Ala. He was a brother of Carmi Thompson, Secretary of State of Ohio. They returned to Louisa on Sunday.

John Kirk, who had gone from Ward to Catlettsburg on timber with his brother Riley, fell to the ground in the latter town last Tuesday morning and died a few hours later. A local paper says he lay on the ground several minutes and, during the time a hot iron was applied to him, but did no good in rallying him.

Says He is Not Married.

Wm. Vest writes us that the report set in to this paper recently by a friend to the effect that he was married at Greenup is untrue. We gladly make the correction.

The Saturday afternoon train from Ashland to Pikeville will be held until 5 o'clock. The round trip fare from Louisa to Catlettsburg on that day will be one dollar. Saturday, it will be remembered, is the day of the temperance rally at Catlettsburg, and all Louisianians who can should join the delegations from the up-river towns and go to Catlettsburg and assist in the work for good.

CURES INDIGESTION

Distress from Stomach and Indigestion Vanishes in Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach. It doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pappi's Diaperish and let you eat one 22-grain Telaugule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become infected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all that there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is awaiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diaperish.

The rentals for oil leases in Wayne county is ninking quite an addition to the per capita circulation. When the leases were given by the land owners a clause in the leases provided that if the operations were not commenced within one year that a certain amount arranging from ten cents to one dollar per acre was to be paid by the lessee each quarter for a period of ten years. Quite a considerable lot of this acreage rental has now become due and is being paid.

Several large coal deals in West Virginia will be closed soon, provided a favorable decision is given on the commodity clause of the Hepburn bill, says a dispatch from Wheeling. It has developed during the past week that several options have been secured and it is known that persons holding these options are friendly with some of the larger railroad companies. It was stated here this morning that at least two of these large deals affecting the railroad in this section, depend entirely upon the outcome of the commodity case. Railroad officials state the bill does not prevent railroad companies from operating coal mines to produce for their own use, and for this reason it is believed that these deals will be closed within the next four days, as the railroads are arranging for a future supply of coal.

Charles Hale of Huntington received a telegram yesterday afternoon to bring his bloodhounds to East Lynn, Wayne county, at once. The message failed to give any explanation as to what had happened that demanded the use of the manhunters, and the supposition was that a murder, robbery or some other aggravated crime had been committed.

An investigation of the matter revealed the fact that some unknown man, who was supposed to be insane, was prowling about through the immense forests of that section, and the Indians had become so terrorized that a general demand was being made that he should be captured at all hazards. The report stated that the man had been in the woods for so long that he had torn his clothing until he had almost denuded himself, and that it was impossible to distinguish whether he was a negro or a white man.

LATER—The man has been caught and put in the Wayne jail.

At Barboursville, W. Va., a pistol duel took place between Henry Johnson and Sampson Rayburn. Trouble grew between the two families of the two men for the past month or two over the alleged fact of Johnson's brother being the father of Rayburn's daughter's illegitimate child. Young Johnson, whom it is claimed is the parent of the baby fled the neighborhood sometime ago, and ever since then members of the two families have been on the outs. Last evening about 8 o'clock Rayburn met Johnson in front of a grocery store and after

In Memory.

Uncle Lewis Fannin, deceased this life March 19, 1909, aged 73 years, one month and six days. He was born and raised in Lawrence county, and was loved, honored and respected by all his many friends. He leaves many relatives and friends who will miss Uncle Lewis from their home.

Uncle Lewis was a good Christian man and always ready to support the church. He was kind hearted and a good neighbor and citizen. A. H.

Lucinda E. Wooten departed this life March 31, 1908, aged 76 years. She was the mother of 12 children, three dead and nine living. She had for 50 years lived a true devoted Christian life and the last ten years of her life she was totally blind, but thank God, Grandma Wooten is in a country where there are no blind eyes or sickness.

In Memory.

Dent has again visited our community and removed from the home of Dr. W.A. Rice and wife, their daughter Docha. She was born July 21, 1885, departed this life March 23, 1909, aged 23 years, 8 months and two days.

She was converted in January 1902, under the ministry of the writer, and joined the M. E. Church South, but was not baptized until Dec. 24, 1908. She was a true Christian in every particular. She was always ready to do anything in her power for the cause of the Lord. She was kind to all with whom she met, the poorest little boy or girl found in her a friend. Death always chooses a shining mark. She was one of the purest and brightest girls I ever met. She was loved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

All was done by her parents that could be done to keep her. She was sent to California for her health, but it failed to restore health. After but it failed to restore health. After she returned home she saw that she must go. She then selected the 14th chapter of John and 15th verse as the text for her funeral, she also selected the songs that she wanted sung: "Looking This Way," "I shall know Him," "There'll be no death valley," "We'll never say goodbye in heaven." Her request was complied with, and the funeral was preached by the writer and the Rev. H. B. Hulette. After which she was laid to rest on the hill that overlooks their home; to rest until the judgment morning. Dosa will be greatly missed by all who knew her, and more especially by her parents and the Sunday school. May God bless them bereaved and may they comply with her request and meet her in heaven.
